

The Paradise Café Austin, Texas

The Paradise Cafe and Bar has been an Austin staple for over 28 years and has maintained its prime location at the corner of famous Sixth Street and Trinity. Enjoy a fun, fully-loaded and low key bar and restaurant with knowledgeable and helpful service. The menu is affordable and delicious with unique and creative entrees.

Today, cool beverages are consumed at the bar built from the original Cotton Exchange building dating back to the late 1800's with a view of historic Sixth Street. Enjoy a beer, wine or spirit as the sun goes down and the nightlife begins in downtown Austin. At the very least, enjoy "Nadine's 88's" piano night scheduled most Friday evenings.

The Paradise Café Austin, Texas

The Paradise Cafe and Bar has been an Austin staple for almost 30 years now.

The kitchen stays open 'til midnight, the bar offers daily drink specials, and three 50" plasma TVs are available to watch the game. Browse the local art on the walls, which is available for purchase and updates every 6 weeks.

Enjoy a casual happy hour while mingling with friends and family or dine in our restaurant, which seats 150 comfortably while many can lounge around the bar near the hustle and bustle of Sixth Street.

Also, many who visit the Paradise Cafe regularly know that the downstairs maple wall is made of the original skating rink in the old Armadillo World Headquarters, which was considered the premiere music hall and entertainment center in Austin, Texas from 1970 to 1980.

Rumor has it, the Cotton Exchange on the corner of Sixth and Trinity was once a brothel shortly after it was erected in 1874. It just so happens the Arc Angels, a blues rock band formed in Austin in the late 1990s, wrote their hit song, "Paradise Cafe" while dining at the Paradise Cafe and Bar when their hit song, "Sweet Nadine" was also released.

So, come on by and see how history and music combine to make The Paradise Cafe a local favorite band music venue located upstairs at Paradise Cafe and Bar on historic Sixth Street in downtown Austin, Texas.

The Paradise Café Austin, Texas

The Paradise Cafe is a popular destination to book private parties, wedding receptions, rehearsal dinners, LIVE bands, banquets, fundraisers, presentations, and more. All this and more located in the heart of downtown at Sixth and Trinity.

Austin is known as the "Live Music Capital of the World", but don't forget that it's also committed to the arts as well. Every six weeks, Paradise Café and Bar displays different art from local artists in the Austin area on the walls throughout the bar and restaurant. These unique photos and paintings are always on display for purchase and for your viewing pleasure. If interested in displaying your art or for an event, please contact us at info@paradiseonsixth.com.

"Its downtown location and hearty menu have led to its success as a lunch destination, as well as a nighttime spot."

- Austin Chronicle 2009

The Paradise Café Austin, Texas

"A Sixth Street bar that pulls off a quality burger. But its extensive menu has other good offerings as well, including green chicken enchiladas, chicken fried steak with homemade gravy and garlic mashed potatoes and a delicious Thai chicken salad.

Forks up."
